

Living with Facial Paralysis

supporting people & their families

A collaboration
by members of the
Facebook group:

Living with Facial Paralysis can be very lonely and often the best support can be found by talking to fellow sufferers.

A new website has been set up to provide information and support for those affected by Facial Paralysis and their families, in conjunction with the Facebook group “Courage to Smile”. To find out more, please visit:

www.facialnervepalsy.com

Living with Facial Paralysis

supporting people & their families

A collaboration
by members of the
Facebook group:

Living with Facial Paralysis can be very lonely and often the best support can be found by talking to fellow sufferers.

A new website has been set up to provide information and support for those affected by Facial Paralysis and their families, in conjunction with the Facebook group “Courage to Smile”. To find out more, please visit:

www.facialnervepalsy.com